

Few-shot learning for deep neural networks is a highly challenging and key problem in many computer vision tasks. In this context, we are targeting knowledge