

We present a system for learning motion maps of independently moving objects from stereo videos. The only annotations used in our system are 2D object bound-