

Consensus maximization is a key strategy in 3D vision for robust geometric model estimation from measurements with outliers. Generic methods for consensus