We present an entirely new geometric and probabilistic approach to synchronization of correspondences across multiple sets of objects or images. In particular,