In this paper, we present a novel approach for dynamic text effects transfer by using example-based texture synthesis. In contrast to previous works that require